

Provider Hints & Tips

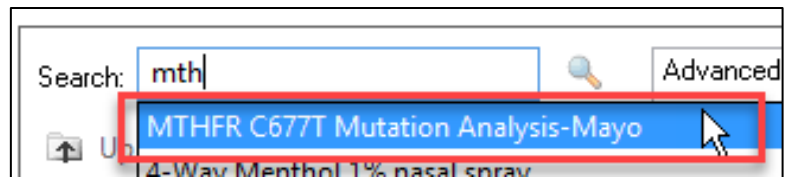

Current Issue with ICD 10 Code: R51 Headache IT Aware of Issue

Recently, ICD 10 code R51 for "Headache" has been modified effective 10/1/2020. The reason that the R51 is no longer valid is because it has been divided into 2 codes. Please choose the R51.0 (Headache with orthostatic component, not elsewhere classified) or R51.9 (Headache, unspecified), depending on which one was correct. However, the R51.0 and R51.9 are not presently active in Cerner. IT is actively working with AMS and are waiting for a package to be tested and downloaded ASAP. The Revenue Integrity asks that providers be sure to document "headache" in the note so that it can be applied by coding.

MTHFR C677T Mutation Analysis-Mayo Order to be Inactivated LIVE 10/29/2020

The BVHS Laboratory Department has received communication that Mayo Clinic Laboratories (MCL) will be making MTHFR testing obsolete effective on October 29, 2020. This Order, in Cerner PowerChart, will become inactive on that date. MCL has stated the reason for this change is that The American College of Medical Genetics and The American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists have recommended against this testing.

Please see the Mayo Communication document in which they have provided references: 510-Methylenetetrahydrofolate Reductase \(MTHFR\) C677T Mutation Blood - Testing Obsolete

New Evaluation and Management Codes are Coming LIVE 1/1/2021

Please be sure to review the Evaluation and Management Code guideline changes. Attached is a link to the PowerPoint from last week's CME: New Evaluation and Management Coding Guidelines for 2021

Please Welcome Jennifer Lammers to the Cerner Training Team as the new BVMP Training, Education and Quality Manager

Cerner Provider and End User Training Line:
567.245.5138
cernerprovidertraining@bvhealthsystem.org

Jennifer Lammers
Alicia Saltzman Andrea Gallagher
Jayla McGuire Alisha Bankey
Megan Camm Amanda Nigh

Blanchard Valley
Medical Practices
BLANCHARD VALLEY HEALTH SYSTEM
Training & Education